THE SECOND CALL.

President McKinley Issues a Proclamation Calling for 75,000 More Volunteers.

WILL INCREASE OUR ARMY TO 260,000.

Troops to be Apportioned Among the States and Territories According to Population.

The Real Business of Our Army and Navy is to Take Cuba and Cervera's Fleet—A Rushing Campaign is to be Carried On.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The president Wednesday issued the following proclamation:

By the President of the United States: A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, An act of congress was approved on the 25th day of April, 1898, entitled "An act declaring that there exists between the United States of America and the kingdom of Spain," and

Whereas, By an act of congress, entitled, "An act to provide for temporarily increasing the military establishment of the United States in time of war and for other purposes," approved April 22, 1898, the president is authorized, in order to raise a volunteer army, to issue his proclamation calling for volunteers to serve in the army of the United States;

Now, therefore, I, William McKinley, president of the United States, by virtue of the power vested in me by the constitution and the laws, and deeming sufficient occasion to exist, have thought fit to call forth and hereby do call forth, volunteers to the aggregate number of 75,000 in addition to the volunteers called forth by my proclamation of the 33d of April, in the present year; the same to be apportioned, as far as practicable, among the several states and territories and the district of Columbia, according to population, and to serve for two years unless sooner discharged. The proportion of each arm and the details of enlistment and organization will be made known through the war department.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this twenty-fifth day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-second.

WILLIAM McKINLEY, Secretary of State.

Secretary Alger said Wednesday afternoon that the additional volunteers called for will not be recruited from the national guard as were the first $125,000, but that the enlistments will be open. The regulations referred to in the proclamation under which the enlistments will be conducted have not yet been prepared, and it is thought that there is no occasion for hurry in this matter until the full draft called for in the first proclamation had been secured. It is further stated that the decision to issue an additional call for volunteers was not reached until the cabinet meeting Tuesday afternoon. The call, it is supposed here, indicates a determination to press the campaign actively and vigorously from now on.

The plan of campaign being considered, based on the assumption that Adm. Cervera's entire fleet is in Santiago, is to keep it blockaded there, and to proceed at once with the invasion of Cuba. This plan contemplates, as soon as a sufficient army is landed in Cuba to hold the Spanish fleet at every point and to warrant aggressive operations, an attack by land forces upon Santiago de Cuba, which it is said could speedily be compelled to surrender. The occupation of Santiago de Cuba by our troops and the blockading of the entrance to the harbor by our fleet would leave the Spanish fleet utterly without support or escape, and the Spanish admiral would either have to surrender or have his fleet destroyed. The same plan contemplated the bombardment of Havana and a general attack upon the Spanish forces at all quarters. By following this plan of prompt and aggressive action it is urged that, before American Spanish fleet could be got to American waters, we could "bag" the island of Cuba and Adm. Cervera's fleet at the same time.
